General Comment

Dear Regulators,

Taking away the right to use options in an IRA would be a huge mistake. In my case, it would seriously limit my ability to generate income from using covered calls on the stocks I hold in my IRA accounts. It would also limit my ability to protect myself in down markets because those same covered calls offset losses. Please do not change retirees' ability to use options to make income and protect their investments. Options are a critical tool in today's environment of low interest rates and volatile markets.

Thank you.
